OFFICIAL BULLETIN.

WASHINGTON, May 28—9:30 p. m.

To Major General Dix:

An official dispatch from the Headquarters of the army of the Potomac, at Magnolia Church, ten miles from Hanover Court House, yesterday, 6 o'clock p. m., has just been received. It states that our army was withdrawn to the north side of the North Anna on Thursday night, and moved toward Hanovertown, the place designated for crossing the Pamunkey. At 9 o'clock yesterday (Friday) morning, Sheridan, with the 1st and 3d divisions of cavalry, took possession of Hanover Ferry and Hanovertown, finding there only a small force of the enemy's cavalry. The 5th corps arrived at 10 o'clock a. m., and now hold the ferry with a sufficient force of cavalry, infantry and artillery to resist any attack likely to be made upon him. The remainder of the corps are pressing forward with rapidity.

A later dispatch dated 7 o'clock this morning, (28th) from headquarters, Magnolia Church, has been received. It reports that everything goes on finely. The enemy's cavalry are in full retreat and the troops move up rapidly and in great spirits, and the army will be beyond the Pamunkey by noon.

Breckinridge is at Hanover C. H. with a force variously reported from 30,000 to 100,000. Hicksford's and Somer's brigades of cavalry are also there.

The dispatch further states that after seizing Hanover ferry, yesterday, Gen. Torbert captured 75 cavalry, including six officers; fell in the rebel rear, destroyed their communications and the railroad for some distance, and then returned to the army with very few casualties.

Gen. Sheridan's dispatch is dated 9 o'clock this morning, and says that the 6th corps is now crossing the Pamunkey. All is well.

(Signed) E. M. STANTON, Secretary War.

NEW YORK, May 28.—The Times' special correspondent, dated in the front of Hanover Court House, about the time Secretary Stanton's last dispatch from Grant was dated, says our army was about to move on the enemy's works, and two hours after-wards the heavy firing commenced and midnight found us our left.

PHILADELPHIA, May 28.—A special dispatch to the Evening Telegram from Washington, 3:30, p. m., says: Gen. Hunter left Fort Negley on Thursday morning with the advance of the army of the Potomac, are up to Thursday night. The rebel army were hotly engaged intrenching on the north side of the South Anna River, and were driven from their position and into their works. No battle had taken place up to the time our informant (an officer) left. Our left had crossed the Pamunkey River, east of Sexton's Junction.

Our whole army was in glorious spirits, and were it not for giving information of a movement before it was completed, we could send you some cheering news.

It is believed Lee is being largely re-inforced from Beauregard's and other armies.

NEW YORK, May 28.—The war correspondent of the New York Tribune's special dated "Near Hanover C. H., May 26," says the Confederate force in front of the centre of the army is estimated at 30,000 infantry, with artillery and cavalry. The enemy's cavalry, under Hampton, Fitzhugh Lee and Rosser, are on the left flank, and the infantry, under Breckinridge, Early and Beauregard, are in front of the centre and right. The rebel army is intrenched on the north bank of the North Anna, and has been for two days past. Our advance on the left crossed the river at Jericho Ford, and on the right at Chesterfield Ford, on Wednesday night. Our line of battle is now formed in the shape of a triangle, the apex being at Hanover Court House, where Sheridan is now posted, with the 1st and 3d divisions of cavalry. The base of the triangle is the line of the North Anna, from Jericho Ford to Chesterfield Ford. Our left is now resting on the Pamunkey, and our right on the North Anna, at Chesterfield Ford

SUNDAY, MAY 30, 1864.

THE CITY.

PERSONAL.—Free Lieutenant Wm. Gale, and Signal Lieutenant Fred. A. Chapman, of the Board of Trade Battery, arrived from Chicago yesterday, to accept the vacant Lieutenancies in the 20th U. S. Infantry, Col. John A. Rawlins, aid-de-camp to Gen. Grant, Washington, D. C.

FUNERAL.—The remains of John C. Fuller are now at the residence of his father, Capt. Fuller, on Ohio street, near Dearborn. The funeral will take place this afternoon, at 4 o'clock, from the house. The deceased was a member of Company A, 8th Illinois Cavalry, and died in the service of his country.

SAD ACCIDENT.—Mr. C. A. T.—The accident and lamentable death of Mr. C. A. T. prepares us to give a grand excursion and picnic to Woodlawn on the Illinois Central Railroad, June 15th. The pecuniary success of crushing the Cheops, and opening the Red Letter, will be performed in public for the first time in our future years.

BIRTHDAY.—Between twelve and one o'clock on Friday night, the house of Officer Manogle, of the First Precinct Police, situated near the Cemetery, on Twelfth street near Center, was boisterously entered. Luckily the thief made sufficient noise to signal persons within, before the officer could capture him he had escaped.

WHAT LIES BEYOND.—Talk street, which from the river to Halsted has been for so many months impassable, this fair, soon to be in a condition for traveling either on the shores of the Nicholson pavement having commenced the middle of the past week, and is being proceeded with at the rate of about fifty yards per day.

COUNTERFEITS.—Those of our readers who do not restrict themselves to the National issues will do well to be on the look. it for counterfeit $5 bills on the Farmers' and Mechanics' Bank of Troy. They are well executed and likely to deceive. On Thursday night a couple of sharpers were trying to pass them at our store after another, on Rice Lewis & Son, but they disappeared before a police man could be found.

BRIDGE ORDINANCE.—It seems impossible to convince measures, that they are liable to a penalty for driving on a bridge after the bell has rung for they will, in the face of all cautions, persist in the practice. Every day's police docket bears the name of one or more of a list of these men, who are imprisoned in default. On Saturday, Michael Kobet was charged with driving over Wells street bridge after the bell had been given for its to stop. He was fined $5 and costs.

THE SANITARY EXCITEMENT.—Capt. Wm. H. Ryan of this city has received a letter from a member of the 40th Illinois, written at Louisville on Wednesday, which states that on Sunday night near twelve o'clock, the baggage car containing the officers baggage, was burned to the ground. The loss to officers was about $400, while the other officers suffered in proportion. The entire loss $2,400 in goods. On the two evenings following the fair there was a collection of $1,000 in that city for the benefit of the Chicago sufferers, but the regiment reached Louisville in safety and unwounded.

HUMANE RAILWAYS.—The following is a report of a letter received on Saturday; the omitted portion is slightly caustic and not at all cut or. Our paying the compliment to many such whole sale and unfounded charges;

St. Nicholas.—You remarked in Saturday's Tribune, that a man was run over by one of the horse cars in the West Division, severely injuring about the head. It may have been run over, but I am sure no car passed over his head, for I was there and do not like one a month, simply for the reason that I would not stop the car for one man, but get on or off—but they expect me to get on when the car is in rapid motion, which I have done often enough to know that is not so easy, if I am not mistaken. I was once and cannot go on again, and consequently walk. Hope all will do the same way, and consequently walk. Hope all will do the same way, and consequently walk. Hope all will do the same way
